

Chippewa Soccer Technical Skills Camp 2009

Chippewa Soccer – Technical Skills Camp 2009:

A camp focused on developing the fundamental skills a player needs to form a solid technical foundation in order to achieve greater success on the soccer field. Instruction will include a detailed demonstration with in-depth explanation as to when, where, why, and how we use each skill on the field. Camp topics are designed to accommodate both beginning and experienced players.

Topics Covered:

Juggling for Touch: Feet, Thighs, Chest, Head
 Foot skills: Dribbling, Feints, Turns, Confidence on the Ball
 Passing and Receiving: Inside of the foot, Chipping, First Touch
 Finishing: Instep Drive, Inside of the foot, Volleys

Davis Draper trained at the Vogelsinger Soccer Academy in Santa Barbara, California and played in the Tennessee Olympic Development Program during his formative years. While in college, Davis coached the Chippewas, who were the TN state champions in 2006. Six of his former players either play soccer in college or professionally. Currently, Davis trains 20 players from around the Cookeville area. His methodology in training places an emphasis on the technical side of the game. From the very basic to the most advanced aspects of technique, you literally fail your way to success in becoming a better soccer player. He then takes the technical to practical to tactical in combining these aspects to teach possession style of play, which is the winning edge.
